Broken Dishes in Batiks

You will need:

(2) – 4 7/8 squares Light Batik

(2) – 4 7/8 squares Dark Batik

On the backside of the two light squares, draw a diagonal line from one corner to an opposite corner, dividing the square into 2 triangles. Do not cut apart yet.

Layer a light square on top of a dark square, with right sides together. Sew $\frac{1}{4}$ inch on each side of the line you drew. Repeat for the remaining light and dark square.

Cut both sets apart on the line you drew. Press the 4 pieces toward the dark fabric. Following the diagram below, piece the four squares together.

Your block should be 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches square when you are finished.

Congratulations on a job well done!!
